CASE STUDIES

Jephson Housing Association

Jephson Housing Association are one of the largest registered social landlords in England. Formed in 1979 it is responsible for 13,500 homes across the country.

Over the last few months, Entrotec have been working closely with their organization based in Elland, West Yorkshire, helping them design a system to suit their needs and also write a specification for the door entry equipment. After discussions, they have decided to use some of our DDA features to aid the partially sighted and hearing impaired, this includes a yellow and black key symbol on their Entrotag access control readers, yellow engraved rings around each call button and our yellow and black LED (Visual information display). Currently, Jephson have just issued a tender to electrical contractors for their first 10 blocks, these should be installed by April 2005.

Jephson Housing Association have also decided to use the LHC programme
